

Mobile Productivity plans

Bring your company's mobile phones all under the one plan – it's great for business!

Flexibility

Our Productivity plans give you greater flexibility in choosing who uses individual services on your account. If you have staff changes, require new services, or need to cancel individual services you can do so without early termination fees. All you need is a minimum of one service remaining active during the 24 month contract. You can add and subtract mobile services at any stage without affecting your contract. Your minimum spend is maintained as it is based at the account level rather than an individual service.

Equipment fund

All our Productivity plans include an equipment fund that you can use at any time during your contract. If you only need to replace part of your mobile fleet when you sign up, you can keep the balance of your equipment fund for when other handsets need replacing. The fund can also be used to purchase car kits and accessories.

Shared spend

Forget paying a predetermined minimum amount on each and every mobile phone your company uses. The monthly access fee is applied at an account level and shared across all mobile services on that account.

Low call rate

Our Productivity plans have a great low call rate of only 11 cents per 30 second block, combined with a generous level of included calls. These are shared across all mobile services on your account, providing maximum benefit for you and your business.

Sign on bonus

All customers who connect to this plan will receive a 'sign-up' bonus on their first month's bill, equivalent to two months worth of your contracted monthly access fee. (e.g. if you sign up for a $500 plan, then a $1,000 sign-up bonus will be applied to your account.)

Choice of networks

Productivity plans offer a choice of mobile carrier networks, providing you with the best coverage for each individual user. Your account can include a combination of services connected to either network, depending on each user's needs. This plan allows you to select the best network for your staff depending on their location and usage requirements.
